

ANOTHER ADDED TO DEATH ROLL

JUROR WOUNDED IN COURT HOUSE FIGHT DIES.

Little Progress Made Looking to Capture of Allens and Clansmen Who Escaped to Mountains—Yesterday's Reports of Capture Erroneous.

Hillsville, Va., March 16.—With Juror Augustus Fowler added to the toll of dead, bringing the total up to five, little or no progress had been made tonight looking to the capture of the Allens and their clansmen, who escaped to the mountains after their murderous attack upon the officials of the Carroll county court.

The reports which came in from the mountains last night that Sidney Allen had been captured and that his wife had been killed, proved erroneous today. Detectives who went to the Allen home found it deserted. Floyd Allen, left wounded after the court room fight, Victor Allen and Byrd Marion, all charged with murder in the first degree, were spirited out of town this afternoon and are now on their way to Pulaski, with the possibility that they may be taken still farther away to Roanoke for safe keeping. Ten detectives went along to guard the prisoners. There had been fears from the first that an attempt would be made to rescue Floyd Allen and a heavy guard had been kept over him. Now that he is safely out of the way the detectives will give themselves over to the hunt for the missing members of the clan.

Cabell Strickland, held as a witness, and John F. Moore, charged with aiding the Allens to escape, are still in jail here.

Order Restored.

Order has been completely restored and the town has been quiet throughout the day save for the many conflicting stories that have come in from the mountains.

Since yesterday all manner of rumors have been afloat and the meanness of the means of communication has made it difficult to separate the true from the false. One report today was that the Allens and perhaps twenty of their clansmen had been located at Devil's Run, in one of the hidden regions of the Blue Ridge mountains, near the North Carolina line. Doubt is expressed if any of the fugitives will be taken alive.

Indictments Returned.

The grand jury summoned by Judge Walter R. Staples today returned indictments against the following: Floyd Allen, Victor Allen, Claude Swanson Allen, his sons, Sidney Allen, Friel Allen, Wesley Edwards and Sidney Edwards, nephews of Floyd Allen, and Byrd Marion, all charged with murder.

John F. Moore was indicted for a felony, the charge being that he assisted the Allens to escape.

After the grand jury reported Judge Staples adjourned court until March 26th.

The grand jurors, seven in number, the solemnly charged by the judge to cast out of their hearts all fear except the fear of God. He declared the grand jury together were the most humiliating and distressing that had ever stained the good name of the commonwealth or darkened the history of the American people. Judge Staples assured the grand jurors that in their deliberations, in their findings, they would have back of them the entire resources of the state.

Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Attorney Foster and Sheriff Webb were held today. Elizabeth Ayres, fatally wounded while in the court room, will be buried tomorrow. Judge Massie's body was shipped to Lynchburg. Juror Fowler died this afternoon.

When Detectives, Constables and Roanoke Militiamen Visited the Sidney Allen Home on the Mountain Side

late today they found neither the owner nor the members of his family on the premises. Not much information was gained from the caretakers. Conflicting reports came from the mountains as to the route taken by the outlaws when they fled away from Hillsville.

In the village tonight there is a feeling that the next 24 hours may bring a climax to the reign of terror which has prevailed since Thursday afternoon.

ROSEWATER CHAIRMAN.

New York, March 16.—Victor Rosewater, editor and proprietor of the Omaha Bee, was tonight appointed to the chairmanship of the Republican national committee made vacant by the death of John Fremont Hill, former governor of Maine, to day. He will be head of the committee at least until the national convention meets. Secretary Haywood said that the selection of Mr. Rosewater was a decided precedent and no meeting would be called to elect a permanent chairman.

WOMAN HANGED HERSELF.

Ion, N. Y., March 16.—Mrs. Kathleen Leslie Doyle Lorillard, wife of Beckman Lorillard of Asheville, N. C., committed suicide today by hanging herself. Her husband is a son of Louis P. Lorillard and descended from Peter Lorillard, who amassed fortune as a tobacco manufacturer. The only explanation her husband could offer was that Mrs. Lorillard had been suffering from nervous trouble which had temporarily deranged her mind.

BATTLESHIP MAINE SUNK

FAMOUS SHIP PLUNGED TO EVERLASTING RESTING PLACE

After Imposing ceremonies Bodies of Heroic Dead Transferred to U. S. Officials and Taken Aboard Cruiser to Be Brought Home.

Havana, March 16.—Under lowering skies, and in a heavy tumbling sea, the old battleship Maine, resurrected after fourteen years burial in Havana harbor, to day plunged with her colors flying to her everlasting rest, 600 fathoms deep in the azure waters of the gulf. The sinking of the hulk was carried out precisely as planned, marking the end of the great work begun more than a year and a half ago.

After imposing ceremonies in the morning, which ended with the formal transfer of the custody of the bodies of the heroic dead by the mayor of Havana to Brigadier General Bixby, chief of the engineer corps, U. S. A., as the representative of the United States, the coffins were taken aboard the armored cruiser North Carolina, where they are deposited on the quarter deck, completely covered by a great mound of floral tributes, under a guard of honor, composed of marines. Minute guns were fired by the North Carolina and the scout cruiser Birmingham and the batteries of Port Cabañas until the ships cleared the harbor.

Independence Peals.

Philadelphia, March 16.—Thirty solemn peals from the big bell in the tower of historic Independence hall recorded Philadelphia's share in the remembrance of the battleship Maine. The bell began tolling at 9 o'clock and was continued at half minute intervals for 15 minutes.

In Memory of Maine.

New York, March 16.—At the stroke of 3 this afternoon the remembrance of the Maine, all river and harbor craft hereabouts blew their whistles and churches in all parts of the city tolled their bells for five minutes. The ancient bell in the tower in Harlem and the bell high up in the Metropolitan tower also were tolled.

Flags everywhere were placed at halfmast and ships lying in port lowered their colors.

The great procession in honor of St. Patrick was ready to start at 3 o'clock, but was halted and the 30,000 men in line stood at attention for five minutes.

TALK OF CONTESTS

Fight on Taft Southern Delegates Will Be Taken Before the National Convention.

Washington, March 16.—Contests against Taft delegates from all southern states to the Chicago Republican convention will be taken before the national committee in June by Roosevelt forces, according to statement given out here today by Senator Dixon, Col. Roosevelt's campaign manager. The purpose of the Roosevelt managers to attempt the overthrow of all President Taft's southern strength before it can be settled in the Chicago convention is further borne out by tables contained in the Dixon statement. The Dixon estimates give Roosevelt 44 delegates and concede but 14 to Taft. The Taft delegates from southern states, 81 in number, are placed in the "contested column."

Director William B. McKinley of President Taft's campaign committee, who also published a tabulated estimate of strength today, claimed 131 delegates for the president and conceded but 13 to Col. Roosevelt, the only item upon which the widely divergent statements of the campaign managers agree is the concession of two delegates from the seventh Iowa district to Senator Cummins.

BACK TO OYSTER BAY.

Oyster Bay, March 16.—Back from the meeting in New York with his political lieutenants, Col. Roosevelt retired to Sagamore Hill, saying he hoped he would not have to talk politics before Tuesday, when he goes to New York again. He probably will remain in the city most of next week. The colonel was still determined not to reveal the results of the conference of last night.

Roosevelt denied the story that Armistead Morgan would succeed Senator Dixon as his campaign manager. He declared Dixon would continue in his charge and his word be absolute.

BREAK OVER BASEBALL.

Chicago, March 16.—Warring factions of the big eight colleges may form two temporary conferences of four members each when the representatives of the institutions meet here next Tuesday and Wednesday. It was said by western university leaders to day. The break over summer baseball already has come and it is thought that after discussing the situation as a whole the conference will part if for no other reason than to take up the baseball situation.

FAVOR PRESIDENT TAFT.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 16.—Supporters of the re-nomination of President Taft controlled the seventh congressional district Republican convention today and elected their candidates for delegates to the national convention. Mayor Lew Shank and William E. English, of this city, by a vote of 128 to 6 for the Roosevelt candidates.

ANARCHY RULES OVER MEXICO

IS STORY TOLD BY AMERICAN REFUGEES.

One Hundred and Thirty Arrived in New York Saturday—No American Is Safe in the Rebellious Republic.

New York, March 16.—One hundred and thirty refugees from Mexico, all of them Americans, arrived here today on the steamship Morro Castle. Two-thirds of them were women and children, who had left Vera Cruz on 21-nights' notice. Among the refugees were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Beater of Millville, N. J.

"Anarchy practically rules all over Mexico," said Mr. Beater. "No American is safe and it is madness for an American woman to appear alone in the streets. American men and women are swarming into Vera Cruz, and ships from now on will bring a load of refugees who are literally fleeing for their lives. Hundreds implored the ship's officers to take them on board the Morro Castle, but only a limited number could be booked."

The worst of the matter is that there are so many women and children. Businessmen, business men and miners, with their families are waiting the first opportunity to get out of the country."

DISPUTE KEEPS UP

Another Statement in Regard to Candidacy of Roosevelt and LaFollette.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 16.—An answer to the letter of Gilson Gardner to Walter L. Houser, in which it was stated that any statement that Col. Roosevelt had urged Senator LaFollette to become a candidate, was authentic, was issued here today by George Lottins, president of the Minnesota Progressive League.

In his statement Mr. Lottins says Mr. Houser's statement "relating to the charge that Gilson Gardner carried out Colonel Roosevelt to Senator LaFollette is correct, according to a statement made by Mr. Gardner himself to a number of progressives at a luncheon which they tendered Mr. Gardner at the Odia club on October 3, 1911."

Mr. Lottins insists that Gardner further stated that Roosevelt advised him that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination if tendered, and that Gardner added that when the time came the colonel would be found lined up with LaFollette against Taft.

Gardner called attention to the fact that the colonel's family, Gifford Pinchot, George L. Record, Hiram Johnson, Francis J. Henri and Senator Miles Folmer were enthusiastically supporting LaFollette's candidacy with Mr. Roosevelt's knowledge and consent.

ONLY ONE READY.

Chicago Suffragists Fail to Invade "Tenderloin" District.

Chicago, March 16.—Suffragists planned to distribute literature espousing their cause in the "tenderloin" district to night, but when time for the invasion arrived only one woman, Mrs. K. L. Wolf, a preacher's wife, was ready to make the trip. Being alone did not daunt her, however, and to a group of photographers and newspaper men she said:

"I fought the saloons in Iowa and distributed anti-salvage literature before the war. I am not afraid."

Her invasion was short-lived. One negro professor to be converted to equal suffrage, and soon after Mrs. Wolf left the district.

FACE INDUSTRIAL PANIC.

London, March 16.—Realizing that no settlement of the coal strike is possible for another week the nation faces with extraordinary calmness the prospect of a swiftly increasing industrial panic.

To frame a measure to which parliament will pass and both parties to the dispute accept is regarded as the most difficult problem the government has undertaken since it assumed office.

It is declared that it may be found necessary to frame a bill so as to define compulsory arbitration with business for either miners or mine owners who may violate its provision.

WOMEN FOR ROOSEVELT.

San Francisco, March 16.—The Women's Roosevelt League of California was organized temporarily here today. Miss Helen Todd, formerly deputy state factory inspector of Illinois, and now a special inspector of the California state labor committee, was the principal woman speaker. Resolutions pledging enthusiastic and undivided support to former President Roosevelt were adopted.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., attended the meeting and followed the proceedings with interest.

DISMISSAL DENIED.

Chicago, March 16.—The motion of Mrs. Mary A. Lavender to have her suit against the Rev. E. B. Crawford of Omaha, former pastor of her church, dismissed was denied by the appellate court to day. Her attorneys objected to the dismissal, averring they had a lien on the judgment for $4,000 obtained by Mrs. Lavender. The judgment was for alleged slander.

SAVED BY DEFECT IN MECHANISM

NEW YORK JUDGE HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Bomb Sent Him by Mail Explodes After Receiver Became Suspicious and Had Sent for Officers to Examine It—Inspector Badly Injured

New York, March 16.—An attempt to kill Judge Otto A. Rosalsky of the court of general sessions with a bomb came within a narrow breadth of being successful to night. It was said only a small defect in the mechanism of the infernal machine which the justice had unsuspectingly opened saved him from probable death or certain injury. The bomb later exploded while being examined by Inspector Owen Egan of the bureau of combustibles, inflicting injuries about the face and arms.

The bomb came by mail and was delivered by a postman to Judge Rosalsky's apartments on Riverside drive about 4:30 p. m. An hour later Judge Rosalsky reached home and unsuspectingly began to open the package while talking to his wife. He took off the wrapper and found a plain white paste board box. He took the cover off, glanced at the contents and telling his wife and brother that it was a bomb, quickly left the room and gave instructions for no one to enter it. He telephoned police headquarters and Egan and David J. Kelly, superintendent of the bureau of combustibles, responded. Notwithstanding Judge Rosalsky's warning for him to be cautious Egan began taking the bomb to pieces. He took out a sad of tissue paper belied to contain fulminating mercury. Judge Rosalsky, who had in the meantime been called to the phone, heard an explosion and rushing to the room found Egan staggering about, bleeding profusely. The index finger of his right hand had been blown off and the whole hand mangled. His face was full of bleeding wounds and his arms and left hand were terribly mangled.

While being carried to the ambulance Egan said:

"This is tough. After I've been working for 17 years, I've opened hundreds of bombs and infernal machines, I am caught. I wish I was bound to come to me in the end."

Judge Rosalsky's apartments bear evidence of the force of the bomb. A thick plate of glass was shattered and the mahogany library table was ground as fine as snow, a great dent was made in the desk itself and the ceiling directly above was riddled with many holes larger than a man's fist. It is believed the explosive agent was nitroglycerine.

Judge Rosalsky said he had no suspicions to express as to who had sent the bomb. Asked if he believed that the Brandt case had anything to do with it, he replied:

"I refuse to answer. What do you think?"

It was Judge Rosalsky who sentenced Brandt to thirty year term for burglary at Mortimer L. Schiff's home in 1907, and who recently reversed an acquittal.

At the hospital Egan's wounds were found to be less serious than at first supposed, but he was weak from loss of blood and it was some time before he was interviewed by the detectives who went to work on the case in charge of Inspector Hughes to night.

TAXICAB ROBBER GUILTY.

New York, March 16.—Guilty of robbery in the first degree was the verdict returned by the jury that tried Gene Montal, the chauffeur in the sensational taxicab holdup of February 15, when two messengers of the East River National bank were robbed of $25,000. With the verdict was coupled a recommendation of mercy. Montal was remanded for sentence on Wednesday.

ALASKAN DEVELOPMENT.

Washington, March 16.—Secretary Walter L. Fisher of the interior department, to day conferred with President Taft about his plan for utilization in the construction of a government railroad in Alaska, of equipment and force sent to be released for work on the Panama canal. Mr. Fisher favors a law authorizing the president to proceed with the construction of a Alaskan railroad just as the canal has been built. He thinks that by carrying such a plan will be found the solution of the problem of Alaskan development.

BRYAN CAMPAIGNS IN WISCONSIN

BRINGS MESSAGE OF ENCOURAGEMENT TO DEMOCRATS.

Rosy Prospect for Democratic Victory Painted by Peerless Leader—Lauds La Follette and Criticizes Taft and Roosevelt.

Madison, Wis., March 16.—Branding President Taft and Col. Roosevelt as unqualified for enjoying the confidence of a progressive people; lauding Senator Robert M. La Follette as the most deserving veteran in the progressive Republican ranks, and painting rosy prospects for a Democratic victory in the coming national election, William Jennings Bryan to night brought a message of encouragement to Wisconsin Democrats in an address on progressive Democracy.

Mr. Bryan declared that the Taft administration was successful in political reforms, but the successes were in no way due to services of the chief executive. Mr. Bryan maintained that the announcement of Roosevelt's candidacy for the presidency was a public indictment by the colonel himself of the failure of Taft's administration; also that if Roosevelt were nominated it would be another indictment against the parts that there is only one man left in the entire rank in whom the people have confidence and that man can be got only by violating a precedent of a hundred years.

Mr. Bryan declared that Col. Roosevelt was being supported in his candidacy for nomination by the United States Steel corporation, a "trust" now before the federal court facing a charge of violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

Mr. Bryan declared himself not only opposed to a third term, but that he would like to see the presidency limited to a single term.

TRACE OF CONVICTS

Stole Milk Wagon and Were Driven to Lincoln—Chief of Police Helped Them Out of Snowdrift.

Lincoln, Neb., March 16.—The first trace of the three convicts who escaped from the Nebraska state prison after killing the warden and two assistants last Thursday was found this afternoon when it was learned they had stolen a milk wagon and team from a farmer near Councilview and had driven to town on the evening of the prison delivery. The three men came on the town early in the night, and finding only a boy and his mother at home, compelled the couple to keep them all night. Early in the morning they took a milk wagon and taking the boy with them, set out for the city. Shortly after 3 o'clock in the morning the wagon stalled in a snow drift near the home of Chief of Police Hunter. The chief was just returning from a search when he saw the wagon stalled in the drift. The boy, with a revolver against his ribs, told the officer that he was driving to make an early delivery and the chief helped his boys through the drift and headed them up the alley to a paved street. The boy then drove to the railroad tracks in the northern part of the city where the men got out.

The boy says he was warned that if he or his mother talked the men would return and kill them.

REMAINS CRITICAL

Conditions in North China Still Panicky—Cannot Assemble Enough Troops to Preserve Order.

Peking, March 16.—The situation in the north remains critical. Rumors of coming attacks on Peking by Mongols and Manchus keep conditions panicky. Few except market-shops are open; the streets are almost deserted. President Yuan Shi Kai cannot assemble enough troops in the north, who will obey him, to re-establish his authority.

From Yuan's home town of Chundun to comes a report that the loyal troops are disarming looters and paying them to return to their homes. Various sections are subscribing thousands of dollars to pay the garrison soldiers to abstain from looting.

During the last week detachments of American and other foreign troops have accompanied treasure cars to their destination.

DINNER GIVEN FOR KNOX.

Guatemala City, March 16.—The official functions in Guatemala City in connection with the visit of Secretary of State Knox were concluded to night with the president's dinner at the government palace. President Cabrera gave a toast to President Taft and the American people.

He expressed in flattering terms his appreciation of Mr. Taft's graciousness in sending Mr. Knox to Guatemala and hoped for a continuation of mutual prosperity and peace.

Secretary Knox, replying, pointed out the importance and necessity of the Monroe Doctrine, and expressed a hope for the continuance of cordial relations between Guatemala and the United States.

FIVE COUNTIES FOR TAFT.

Des Moines, March 16.—The delegations of five Iowa counties were added to the strength of President Taft in the forthcoming state convention in the county conventions held today.

Committees received one instructed delegation from Tama county, while in Washington county the convention elected what is termed a progressive delegation, after endorsing Senators LaFollette and Cummins and Col. Roosevelt.

ALASKAN DEVELOPMENT.

Washington, March 16.—Secretary Walter L. Fisher of the interior department, to day conferred with President Taft about his plan for utilization in the construction of a government railroad in Alaska, of equipment and force sent to be released for work on the Panama canal. Mr. Fisher favors a law authorizing the president to proceed with the construction of a Alaskan railroad just as the canal has been built. He thinks that by carrying such a plan will be found the solution of the problem of Alaskan development.

INCOME TAX DEBATE STARTS

TAKEN UP BY HOUSE AND DISCUSSED VIGOROUSLY.

Agreement Reached to Vote on Measure Tuesday—General Debate Will Conclude Monday—Various Speakers Heard Yesterday.

Washington, March 16.—The Democratic income tax bill, providing a 4 per cent tax on corporations, firms and individuals of or exceeding $5,000 a year was taken up by the house to day and debated vigorously. A vote on the measure will be taken Tuesday by an agreement reached early to day. General debate on the bill will conclude Monday.

Early in the proceedings to day Representative Prouty of Iowa, an insurgent Republican, aroused Democratic applause by declaring his intention to support the bill. He justified his action on the ground that he always had favored a tax on incomes, because "it placed the burden of taxation on the shoulders of those best able to bear it."

Later Democratic applause was renewed when Representative Jackson of Kansas, Republican, announced he would vote neither for nor against the bill.

"I want to congratulate the country," said Chairman Underhill, "upon learning from the representative of the Progressive Republican of Kansas just where those gentlemen stand. We find that they don't stand anywhere. He was willing to vote for a reduction on wool, for reducing the tariff on iron and steel, but under this bill, he says, he might be taxed and industries in his state might be taxed, and therefore, instead of taking a stand either for or against this measure, he orders to announce to the country that he will stand on the fence and watch the procession."

The spectre of Socialism was paraded by Representative Garrett of Tennessee, Democrat, who argued that the growth of that party and the spread of Socialistic doctrine was due directly to the unrest of the people under the tax and the unequal distribution of such taxation.

"The spread of Socialism in this country is alarming," he said. "Tired of empty promises and of political hygeinism, the people have gone to the other political extreme and are taking up theories foreign to our national policies and integrity. They have grown tired of a few men eating their bread in the sweat of other men's brows."

Representative Dickinson of Missouri, Democrat, defended the constitutionality of the proposed law.

PROTEST MADE.

Plans on Foot to Prevent Presidential Preference Vote in Chicago.

Chicago, March 16.—Formal protest was made to day against the proposition to hold a presidential preference primary in Chicago, April 9, in connection with the regular spring primary. County Judge Owens recently ordered the election commission to prepare to record the preference of the voters on the presidential candidates. The action was at the instance of the local Roosevelt league. Notice was served on the election commissioners and the county judge that a writ of prohibition would be asked for on Monday before Circuit Judge Windes, to prevent a presidential preference vote.

WOODSON REVIVAL.

Special Service Held for Young Men Last Night.

A special meeting was held for young men at the Woodson Christian church Saturday night and Evangelist Hougham preached from the subject "The young man for the twentieth century." In describing such a person the speaker said he should have certain ideas, watch associations and habits, not drift with the crowd, be an enemy of rum, interested in good citizenship, a man.

There was a large audience present and Miss Taylor sang as a solo optimistic, and above all a Christian. "Mother's Prayer." A quartet composed of Miss Taylor, Miss Meda Gallagher, Dr. R. R. Jones and Edward Gallagher gave two selections. The subjects for today's services will be:

10:30—"The Church of the Twentieth Century."
3:00 p. m.—"Encouraging Signs of the Times."
7:30 p. m.—"Woodson Excesses."

COAL PRICES ARE JUMPING.

On account of the possibilities of a miners' strike, beginning April 1, the coal market has taken on a very turbulent condition and prices are soaring. There are dozens of buyers in Springfield and they are offering from $3 to $4 per ton for coal at the mines. It is not so much a question of price as it is of getting the coal. Most of the buyers will pay most any old price if they can only have the definite assurance that the coal will be forthcoming after the purchase has been made.

Herman's opening Wednesday. Music all day and evening. Everybody welcome.

WHEAT REPORTS ENCOURAGING

Reports on the condition of the wheat crop from all parts of the country are very encouraging. In most fields the wheat seems to be all right, but of course in spots where water has frozen around the plants there is no hope for it. Many farmers, however, report that they have examined the roots of wheat seemingly dead and found it in good condition.

SUGGESTS BASEBALL FOR 1912.

A number of Jacksonville fans, among them A. J. Franks, have been talking about baseball for Jacksonville the coming season. Now that a number of northern cities are about to launch a new league it has been suggested that Jacksonville "get in the game" once more. The old saying that this city will support a winning team is doubtless true still and if somebody would get behind the movement and boost and guarantee a winning team there would be little question about the success of the season. It seems reasonable to suppose that that thing would be in good deal of interest this year in the national game as there has been nothing doing now in baseball matters here for a long time. The Journal will be glad to print the views of any persons interested in this subject.

BEADLES ON SICK LIST.

Evangelist J. M. Beadles, who is now conducting a revival in Clinton, has been on the sick list for several days and Rev. G. W. Flagg of the M. E. church of Clinton has been filling his place. It was thought Mr. Beadles might be able to preach to day.

Mrs. Anna T. Myers of 426 East North street is reported quite ill.

This shows a new room with the BEAVER BOARD being nailed to the walling. The work is easily and rapidly done, without the labor and confusion of lath and plaster.

This shows how the room looks when finished. It suggests but one of very many artistic schemes of design and decoration possible with BEAVER BOARD walls and ceilings.

Use BEAVER BOARD for the Walls and Ceilings of Your New or Remodeled Building

It costs less than lath and plaster, lumber, or metal; is more quickly and easily put up; is durable, sanitary and artistic.

It will not crack, chip or deteriorate with age; it deadens sound, keeps out heat and cold, retards fire, and resists strain or vibration.

Made entirely of selected woods, reduced to fibrous form and pressed into panels of uniform thickness, with handsome pebbled surface. Made in convenient sizes for every purpose. Small quantities furnished for making many decorative and useful household articles. Full instructions for application. Apply to

BARACAS HELD BANQUET.

Baptist Church Organization Spends Pleasant Evening.

The members of the Baracas class of the First Baptist church held a banquet in their room Friday evening. The members have been working for a long time in fixing up their meeting place and the gathering was in the nature of a rejoicing meeting and for a good time socially. Miss Hammond is teacher of the class, which organization has become one of the important factors of the church. The banquet consisted of an oyster supper with all the trimmings, which was followed by the program.

Substantial refreshments were served and many happy birthday wishes were extended Mrs. Weigand.

The day depends on the start. Our coffees have the taste and quality. J. F. Claus Tea Co.

WILL ORGANIZE COMPANY.

It now seems certain that the farmers in the vicinity of Joy Prairie will organize a company and erect an elevator there. In fact, quite a large amount of the stock has been subscribed. It is the intention to have a capital of $5,000 and to sell not more than a share to any one person. A meeting is to be held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Joy Prairie to further discuss the project.

Special display of spring fashions in ladies', misses' and children's ready to wear garments Wednesday, March 20th. F. J. WADDELL & CO.

ST. PATRICK ENTERTAINMENT.

To-morrow evening, March 18th, a St. Patrick's entertainment will be given at the Grand opera house by children of the parochial school. #### TENDERED THE MONEY

Christopher Richardson of the Orleans neighborhood was recently made high bid when the Swallow farm was sold at the Jacksonville Saturday. Mr. Richardson said that he tendered the money for the farm after he had purchased it, but was unable to get a deed signed. Later the land was bought by Robert Hills as related in the Journal Saturday.

WILL GIVE PLAY.

The members of Belle Lettres society of the Woman's college are rehearsing for a play to be given March 25. It is entitled "The Doll House," written by Henry Gibson. Miss Laura Tanner has been giving the participants a lecture on the nature of the play, which is rather a heavy production, but intensely interesting.

Arts and Crafts in Basketry

We have just received our new spring line of Hawkeye Baskets. These baskets are made by expert craftsmen, some of whom have spent their entire lives in perfecting themselves in the art of basket weaving. The workmanship is not only the best that can be produced, but the materials are of the highest quality that can be had anywhere. In addition to the odd and quaint constructions one of the chief charms of our baskets lies in the artistic colorings. The soft, subdued craftsman colors, blend readily with almost any surroundings.

INTERURBAN MAN VISITS CITY

Mr. Coon of South Bend Will Seek to Arouse Interest in Jacksonville and Springfield Line.

V. H. Coon of South Bend, Ind., is in the city for a few days and last night had a conference with President Newman and Bernard Gause of the Jacksonville Business Men's association. Mr. Coon is a successful railroad man coming here with strong recommendations. He has had a lot of experience in the building of interurbans and is a stock broker as well as a railroad builder. The real purpose of his mission to Jacksonville is to look into the possibility of an interurban between Jacksonville and Springfield. As a matter of fact he has been studying the question for some weeks and is firmly convinced that such a road could be built and made to pay. According to his opinion an interurban project has little chance for success unless local capital shows an interest. Mr. Coon will consult a number of Jacksonville bankers and business men and he has such financial connections that he thinks an interurban can be realized here if a reasonable local interest is shown. Interurbans parallel to railroads are considered as built along proper lines, according to Mr. Coon, as it is easier to get a right of way and the risk from liability suits is less if this plan is followed.

TO PROTEST DAUGHTERS.

List of Questions Regarding Prospective Suitors.
Cathu, Ill., March 16.—Mothers here have formed a protective league for the purpose of exchanging information regarding young men who appear as prospective suitors of their daughters. It is planned to spread the organization through Central Illinois. Here are some of the questions on which mothers seek enlightenment regarding young men who would pay Sunday evening calls:

Does he drink?
Does he smoke cigarettes?
Does he read good books?
What are his business prospects?
Does he use profane or vulgar language?
Where does he spend his evenings?
Is he considerate of his mother and sisters?
On the "information blanks" are spaces for "general remarks" not covered in the specific interrogations.

A Mystery Explained.

An English doctor was asked to explain how women can wear such filmy clothes in cold weather without appearing thin and without much discomfort when a man would suffer terribly as exposed. He says this resting power is due to an additional layer of fat in the body, acquired in the days of cave dwelling, when the women had to stay in the cold huts while the men kept warm by hunting and outdoor activities.—Healthy Home.

Reassuring Him.

"But," said the absolutely bald old party, "can I be assured that this horse is quite gentle?"
"My dear sir," replied the tricky dealer, "he wouldn't hurt a hair of your head."—Catholic Standard and Times.

INCREASE WEIGHT QUICKLY.

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.
Samose can hardly be termed a medicine, it is in reality a flesh forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sallow complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

Cover & Shreve's customers have told them of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh forming food, and they are so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that they are selling it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You who are thin and in poor health can not afford to let another day pass without getting a 50c box of Samose on those terms.

PARTY AT ALEXANDER.

Mrs. J. T. Little Entertains in Honor of Birthday.
Mrs. J. T. Little delightfully entertained Saturday afternoon at a St. Patrick's Day party at her home near Alexander. The affair was also in honor of Mrs. Little's birthday. The home was beautifully decorated in a color scheme of green and white, the decorations being used with pretty effect. An excellent musical program of Irish songs and instrumental numbers was given by Mrs. Ernest Strawn, Mrs. Charles Strawn, Miss Laura Luken and Miss Jennie Colwell. The appointments in every way were in keeping with the day and considerable amusement was caused by the relating of Irish sayings. Mrs. J. W. Relf received the honors for the most comical saying, the prize being a green pig. The guests were also asked to guess the number of articles displayed on a table and in this contest Mrs. Ernest Strawn received the prize, which was a box of chocolates. Mrs. Little was presented a handsome library table as a gift from her friends and she received also a number of other beautiful gifts.

In the elegant refreshments served the same color scheme was observed as in the decoration. Miss Jennie Colwell of Normal presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Little was assisted in the entertaining by Miss Hazel Wilner. There were about forty guests present, among them being Mrs. Carlton of Clayton, a sister of the hostess, Mrs. James Strawn of Jacksonville, Miss Matilda Richardson and Mrs. William Luken and daughter, Miss Laura, of Orleans.

TESTING SEED CORN.
Farmers' Institute Points Out Great Need For Care At This Season of the Year.
We have written to more than twenty farmers throughout the state and have talked with at least fifty more and out of this number just six have found their seed corn sufficiently good to use without testing, car by car. If these men find their seed unsatisfactory, how about yours? Don't chance it, for testing means stand, and stand often means crop and crop means reward for labor both in satisfaction and material comforts.

For want of the test the stand was lost.
For want of the stand the crop was lost.
For want of the crop the interest was lost.
For want of the interest the mortgage was lost.
For want of the mortgage the farm was lost.
For want of the farm the home was lost.
All for the want of the seed corn test.

Maybe it won't mean the loss of the home in your case, perhaps it won't go that far, but about the loss of the labor expended on the fields, the loss of the satisfaction that comes from tasks well done, the loss of material comforts for your family and yourself? Maybe you are planning to put in a pressure tank and provide a water supply to the house and barn; maybe it's a bath room and sewerage system for the house; maybe it's a silo or some other new building, and perhaps it's an automobile. The seed corn test will do much toward insuring the fulfillment of one or more of these plans you have in mind.

How to Test Corn.
For testing use the cloth roll method. Get cheap muslin, tear into strips 22 inches wide and at least 8 feet long. Two inches from either edge draw a line, with a soft lead pencil, lengthwise of the strip. Four inches from this line draw a second and four inches from this another. This makes five lines lengthwise of your cloth. Now rule crosswise, making four inch squares. Put a mark on number one of the end of the strip. Always begin filling the roll at this end of the strip. Each strip of these dimensions ruled in this way will accommodate the test of 56 ears. Lay the seed ears out on a shelf, the floor, or in any convenient place. Take from each ear five or six grains, being careful to take these grains from all parts of the ear. Place the grains from ear No. 1 in square No. 1 and so on until the strip is filled. Begin at the end opposite square No. 1 and carefully roll the strip, making sure the grains do not get out of their respective squares. When rolled, tie a string tightly about the middle of the roll. Drop into a pail of lukewarm water and let lie until thoroughly saturated. Squeeze out all the water possible and lay roll in a warm place for five or six days, keeping it moist all the while. At end of this time unroll carefully and each square will have within it a true indication of the seed value of the ear which it represents. This method is easy, rapid, does not require any heavy boxes or testers, takes little room and provides a true measure of the worth of the grain you expect to plant.

THANKS OF KINDERGARTEN BOARD.
The board of free kindergarten desires to publicly thank all who so generously and kindly helped make the recital of last Thursday evening such a marked success. To Dr. K. ... who donated use of Academy hall, to Mrs. P. C. Thompson, Miss Oldfield, Mr. Kitch and Mr. Munger, most earnest thanks are extended. Also to kindergarten committee, Mrs. J. R. Robertson, Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Browning, for their efficient and competent arrangements; to the ushers, who gave their help; to the public, who braved the very inclement night and gave so generously at the door. To one and all the board extends sincere and hearty thanks. The proceeds were $51.33, which sum is a very material help.

An election of officers resulted as follows:

President Barker is in Jalesburg, attending a rally of the Forward Educational Movement. Throughout all parts of the two conferences a great deal of interest and enthusiasm is being shown in this movement for the betterment of the colleges.

Wednesday Misses Jennie Anderson, Ruby Neville and Mabel Carter went to St. Louis to attend the ninth general convention of the Religious Education association. They reported a very helpful meeting and a good attendance.

Miss Amanda Kidder, head of the expression department, will go to Barry Monday to read "The Servant in the House" for the Eastern Star of that place. A few days later she will go to Carrollton to give a reading in the Methodist church of that place.

The annual Senior-Junior reception was given Saturday evening in the Belles Lettres and Phi Nu society halls. Miss Grace Cowgill, class officer of the Senior class, and Miss Annette Reardon, president of the Senior class, together with Miss Ruby Neville, class officer of the Junior class, and Miss Geraldine Fouché, president of the Junior class, were in the receiving line. The evening was spent in progressive conversation and games, and was in the nature of a St. Patrick's party. Delicious refreshments were served in the Domestic Art room. Quite a number of out of town guests were present and a most delightful time was enjoyed by all.

It was with regret that Mr. Phillips' recital had to be postponed, owing to his illness. Mr. Phillips is now planning to have his concert on Thursday, the 21st, at which time the same program will be given as appeared in the paper last week. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and enjoy this concert.

Miss Jennie Anderson, head of the History department, gave a most interesting and able talk on the initiative and referendum at the chapel exercises on Saturday morning.

HOW MANY KNOW?
A well known and prominent business man remarked yesterday to a Journal reporter that he wondered how many young people studying in the city knew what were the political divisions of the county and of the state. The question might possibly bother older heads for a time at least. There are a good many such important matters as this which may not be well understood and which would be useful knowledge to the rising generation.

Mrs. A. A. Suits and Miss Ada Rogers of Springfield spent yesterday with their sister, Mrs. N. A. Branom on East College avenue, and left over the Burlington for Atwater where they will spend Sunday with relatives.

PEOPLE NOTICED IT.
Last spring many of the people who know Gerald Rogers of New York were talking about how pale and delicate he was. No one had to tell him, for he realized his sad condition.

It was spring—just the time to do something for his blood—and he decided to do it. His recent letter tells the whole story: "I was very weak, delicate and pale all spring, owing to run-down health and poor blood. But since taking Vinol my health has been built up splendidly and I have recovered my former strength. My blood is now rich and healthy and my appetite is good."

The very best spring medicine you can possibly get is Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, because it not only purifies the blood but builds up flesh and strength and makes quantities of rich new blood.

Make up your mind right now that you will try Vinol (on our guarantee that it must please you or cost you nothing) for it will make you feel better than you have felt for years. Lee P. Allcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

AT THE GRAND.
One of the potent appeals of "The Servant in the House," which will be here at the Grand Tuesday night is its remarkable realism. Audiences lose themselves in the unfolding of the beautiful story and awake to the realities of life at the end with a sigh of regret. Commenting on this fact, Harper's Weekly says: "Here is a drama so great, so compelling, so reverent, so akin to all the beautiful and permanent things in life that it is more than a play, more than a novel, more than a mere book. It is a page from life itself, revealing the brotherhood of man as a real, breathing thing; showing how impossible has become possible." According to the critics, "Not in a lifetime has such a wonderful play been created."

For the Children
Giant Cactus That Resembles a Spur.

The great size to which the cactus plant grows in Arizona is clearly shown in the accompanying illustration, in which a horse is included for the sake of comparison. Of still more interest is the fact that this plant takes the form of a spur, due probably to the strong winds, which bent the plant over until its top touched the earth, after which a second root formed and a new growth started upward from the top of the arch so formed.

The Elephant.
Even in India the elephant is not used for going about as much as he once was. But for the duration of the Delhi meeting at which King George was formally proclaimed emperor of India the elephant was used by the thousands.

In ermine and gold trappings, carrying a howdah or pulling a carriage, he was a wonderful sight. Here we see elephants only at the zoological gardens and at the circus. And aren't they interesting? You may always identify this largest animal by its trunk. Its feet have five toes each, enveloped in an outer skin. And baby elephants have a tiny pair of milk teeth, which they shed just as human babies do their milk teeth.

The elephant's wonderful trunk is an extension of its nose, the nostrils being at the end of the trunk. Down at the end there is a fingerlike development, with which the elephant can pick up the smallest objects. This always seems very strange since the elephant is so large. An elephant walks six miles an hour, and in case of great need he shuffles along at the rate of twelve miles, but he cannot trot. While he climbs rather steep mountains, a ditch seven feet in width stops him short.

The ivory of which his tusks are made is very valuable. With these tusks he attacks an enemy.

King of the Castle.
King of the castle is a good game. One player gets on the top of a little hillock or mound of earth and proclaims himself "king of the castle." Insinuating at the same time that his playmates are "little rascals" in the following couplet:
I'm the king of the castle;
Get down, you little rascals!

The boys stationed on the level ground resent this insult by endeavoring to pull or push the king from his elevated position, while he exerts his utmost efforts to maintain his station. The player who can contrive to dislodge the monarch of the hillock takes his place and keeps possession both of castle and title until some stronger contender compels him to abdicate.

What Johnny Overheard.
Johnny was dozing in his father's library when he overheard this conversation:
"Hello, Fatty," said the Copybook to the Dictionary.
"Hello, Thinny," retorted the Dictionary.
"You're a wordy person, Fatty," said the Copybook.
"You're an empty thing, Thinny," said the Dictionary.
"Bound to have the last word, eh, Fatty?" sneered the Copybook.
"Need it in my business," said the Dictionary. And the Umbrella coughed so hard that it bent one of its ribs—Philadelphia Ledger.

Conundrums.
Why does the sun rise in the east? Because 'east makes things rise.
How do you know that some persons were evolved from the vegetable kingdom? Because many of them are still small potatoes.
Why is the Milky Way in the sky? Because the cow jumped over the moon.
Why is a caterpillar like hot cakes? They both make the butterfly.

Naughty Willie.
Willie—Teacher liked me 'cause I was the only one who could answer a question.
Mother (frightened)—What was the question?
Willie—Who put the pin on teacher's chair?

The Airy Giraffe.
Said a pert little dog to a tall giraffe, "It isn't that any one cares. But you look so stuck up that the neighbors laugh.
And say you are putting on airs."
The giraffe was annoyed, who could plainly see.
And smiled as he made reply.
"If you had a nice long neck like me You would do the same as I."

Hugo B. Koch as Manson in "The Servant in the House." At the Savoy theater, New York, success. "The Servant in the House," which will be presented at the Grand on Tuesday night, March 19, is a modern comedy that occasionally touches tragic significance. It tells of three brothers who drift apart in early manhood and who unexpectedly meet again in England one sunny morning in spring. One had become a vicar in the Church of England, the second is a victim of drink and is a reaver, and the third, who had gone to India, had become the famous Bishop of Benares. The scene is laid in the Vicar's home, to which place the scavenger comes, or the drain-man, as he is called in the play, with bitter hatred in his heart for his clergy-

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Six large consignments of potatoes are expected to arrive in New York from abroad during the next two days, bringing the total receipts for the season up to a million sacks. The duty on the entire quantity will foot up to nearly $700,000.

Can you imagine such a condition being allowed to exist? Think of it! Uncle Sam going abroad to buy potatoes! Why, there's no place in the world where a better quality of potatoes can be grown or where the yield per acre is greater than in some part of the Big Horn Basin of Wyoming.

If you know of any one who wants to make money raising potatoes, tell them to write to me. I can tell them some things worth knowing—and the information won't cost anything either.

FIRST WHITE VICTIM.

Frankfort, Ky., March 16—Unless an act of executive clemency intervenes, the electric chair in the state prison at Eddyville will receive its first white victim next week. The man who is awaiting execution is Cal Miracle, the Breathitt county murderer. On August last Miracle shot and killed Matthew Jones at his home near Pineville. The screams of the wife and children of the victim attracted Mrs. Deslie Gibson, a neighbor, to the scene. On her way she met Miracle, who shot and killed her. The double murder led to the mountains and for several months all efforts to capture him were without avail. Several months later he was found in Birmingham, Ala., where he was arrested and returned to Pineville for trial.

Woman's World

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow Says Editors Aren't Prejudiced.

MRS. WILSON WOODROW.

To many readers of Mrs. Wilson Woodrow's breezy stories that from time to time appear in the popular magazines it will be a surprise to learn that the author is a slight young woman with curly blond hair and altogether feminine in manner and appearance. The vigor, breadth and masculine viewpoint of her stories have caused many persons to imagine the author was a man masquerading under a feminine pen name. But Mrs. Wilson Woodrow is really the name of this very clever little lady. Her husband and Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey are cousins, named after uncles with the surname of Wilson, and Woodrow, respectively, and the Christian names Thomas and James, and when the boys grew up the author's husband dropped the James and Woodrow Wilson dropped the Thomas. So Mrs. Woodrow can't help her name nor the fact that she's a woman.

When Mrs. Woodrow was asked to account for the masculine viewpoint in her writings she replied: "I was brought up in a family which included more men than women, which taught me perhaps to handle my male characters in a fashion true to life. I am not a college graduate," she continued. "I never went to school even. When I wanted to learn anything and said so I had teachers provided at home."

Before going to New York city ten years ago from her home in southern Ohio Mrs. Woodrow had written no fiction, and her first short story, whose scene was laid in a mining camp, was submitted to a New York newspaper syndicate, and a check for $100 was sent to her two days later for the story, with the request from the same firm for a series of stories based on mining camp life.

The same week Mrs. Woodrow sent a humorous sketch to a society magazine, which was accepted with a request for more copy of the same character.

This was the start, and the datatly little authoress thought the letters so wonderful that they found a place of honor as a decoration on her study wall.

Mrs. Woodrow thinks that "pull" has nothing whatever to do with the placing of manuscripts and as for personally influencing editors and publishers it had nothing to do with the acceptance of her stories as her staff was sold before she had met the editors.

When asked recently if she intended to confine herself to short story writing, Mrs. Woodrow answered: "Oh, dear, no. I feel as if I had just begun to work—as if I have just started out. My best work, I hope, is to come, and this, I think, will be expressed in long stories. For one thing, novels pay the better. One puts almost as many ideas and as much work into a short story as into a novel and for a comparatively small return." The following is how Mrs. Woodrow's days are spent when a long story is being written:

"I cut out social pleasures almost entirely—that is, anything likely to distract my thoughts from the main trend. I don't go to the theater, for instance, nor to teas nor dinners, nor to entertainments where I shall meet and talk with a lot of people. I can't stand play at such times. I get better results by working steadily when I work and playing only when my work is done. Of course I don't mean that I write all day long. I get to work early, soon after 7 o'clock, and stay at my desk till 1 o'clock or so, doing perhaps 2,500 words. After lunch I walk, motor or do something that doesn't distract my thoughts too much. I wish flying machines were in fashion, for it seems to me that would be an ideal secluded way to take pleasure and exercise at the same time. When I come home I may work a couple of hours more, going over proofs or revising something already written, but I don't resume work on my story until the next morning."

The Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw is said to have preached in more countries than any other woman in the ministry. Besides this country, Dr. Shaw has preached in England, Germany, Sweden, Denmark and Holland.

For the Children

Clear the Range; the Coaster Is Coming.

Courtesy of St. Nicholas.

These are jolly days for the young folks who live where Jack Frost and the snow king hold sway. Brooks and ponds are icebound, and the hills and fields glisten under their covering of snow. What sport to strap on skates and skim like a bird over the glassy ice or to climb the hills and coast like a meteor to the valley below. Like the joys laid in the picture "Clear the road, I'm coming!" he shouts, and you may be sure his comrades give him plenty of room. It is no joke to be bumped by a boy laden sled whizzing down a steep incline. Then comes the fun of mounting up again to repeat the exhilarating dash. Roses glow in cheeks, and, despite the biting enjoyment, dinner time seems long a coming. Summer sports are due in their season, but now they seem tame in comparison with the glorious fun made possible by ice and snow.

Here Goes Up For Monday.

This game requires seven players, each choosing a name of one of the days of the week. The players stand facing a high solid wall. "Sunday" takes a rubber ball and, throwing it high against the wall, calls out, "Here goes up for Sunday day of the week, being mentioned." The player whose name has been called must launch before it reaches the ground, the other players running away. If the ball is caught it is thrown against the wall by the catcher, and he, in his turn, calls a name. When the player fails to catch the ball he misses a point, or an "egg," as it is called. He must then pick up the ball and throw it at another player. If one is hit, that player also loses an egg and has in his turn to throw the ball against the wall. If, however, the player who throws the ball at the other player fails to hit him he must throw the ball against the wall himself. The loss of three "eggs" puts the player "out." The last one having an egg left wins the game.

The Jealous Deer.

Deer are sensitive animals and capable of all phases of affection, jealousy included. Judge Catron of Illinois has a fine deer park, and of the drove one named Frank is especially friendly. He follows his keeper as a dog would do and manifests every sign of affection. One day another deer was brought into the park and the keeper in a short time had made quite a pet of it. Frank immediately grew sullen and in a few days could stand it no longer. First he charged upon the deer, knocking it down, and when the keeper interfered Frank turned upon him, and there was a lively battle for a few minutes. The other men came to the rescue, and Frank was beaten off and put in a small yard by himself. In the end the newcomer had to be sent away, and then Frank became as amiable as before.

Water Ball.

Water ball is the most interesting outdoor game that you could imagine, and it is quite exciting too. First a wash tub is placed in the center of the lawn and filled half full of water. Then nine rice round potatoes are selected (rubber or baseballs may be used if preferred) or even croquet balls. Then a line is marked with sticks or little stones ten paces from the bucket. The players stand in a row along the line, and each one in turn tries to toss his potato into the tub. Every potato that falls into the water counts one for the owner. Each one keeps his own count. When nine potatoes have been thrown they are fished out of the tub, and the players line up and toss over again. The first one who succeeds in putting twenty-one potatoes into the tub wins the game.

Origin of the Thimble.

The thimble was at first worn on the thumb and for that reason was called a thumb bell, which later became thimble and finally thimble. It was invented by the Dutch and introduced in England in 1655. The first thimbles were made of iron or brass. Later came those of silver, gold, steel, horn, ivory, pearl and glass. The Chinese make beautiful thimbles of carved pearl, with gold binding and ends. One of the most gorgeous thimbles ever seen was a bridal gift from the king of Siam to his queen. It was made of gold, shaped like a lotus bud and was thickly studded with diamonds, arranged so as to spell the queen's name.

A Permanent Cure For Chronic Constipation

Although those may dispute it who have not tried it, yet thousands of others, who speak from personal experience, assert that there is a permanent cure for chronic constipation. Some testify they were cured for as little as fifty cents, years ago, and that the trouble never came back on them, while others admit they took several bottles before a steady cure was brought about.

The remedy referred to is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been on the market for over a quarter of a century and has been popularized on its merits, by one person telling another. The fact that its strongest supporters are women and elderly people—the ones most persistently constipated—makes it have a simple bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood; the cuticle is always healthy where the circulation is free from impurities. When the blood is infected with acid or unhealthy matter it cannot perform its natural work of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its normal softness, pliability and healthfulness. Instead it irritates and inflames the delicate fibers and tissues around the pores and glands and produces some of the many forms of skin disease. The itching and stinging so often accompanying skin affections are produced by the deposit from the blood of the acid humors with which it is filled, into the sensitive membranous flesh lying just beneath the outer covering, and surrounding the countless nerves, pores and glands. This explains why scratching the outer skin affords no relief from the itching and burning. S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every character by purifying the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors or acids which are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and permanently cures every variety of skin affection. Local applications can only soothe; they never cure because they do not reach the blood. S.S.S. goes right into the circulation, touches the trouble and cures it by removing the cause. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Miss Alice Wadsworth entertained Saturday at a delightful noon-day luncheon at the Peacock Inn in honor of Miss Mary L. Masters. The parlors of the Inn for this occasion were made most attractive in a decorative scheme of yellow and white. A bank of yellow roses and white narcissus with smilax beautifully interwoven comprised the center piece and from this sprays of smilax led to each plate on the round table. The place cards were white being held by a miniature bride's maid dressed in yellow. The elegant menu which was served was in accordance with the same color scheme.

The guests included Mrs. S. D. Masters, Mrs. Arthur Masters, Mrs. F. E. Farrell, Mrs. F. J. Waddell, Mrs. C. W. Brown, Mrs. Walter Ayers, Mrs. J. R. Mathers, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Jr., Mrs. George Matthews, Mrs. Isaac Powers, Mrs. H. K. Chenoweth, Mrs. Harry Taylor, Miss Mary L. Masters, Miss Alice Wadsworth, Miss Helen Phelps, Miss Eleanor Capps, Miss Martha Hayden, Miss Edith Jordan and Miss Ethel Wylder.

Miss Nina Mitchell, one of the capable teachers in the Jefferson school, first ward, has resigned her position and expects to start west Tuesday for the benefit of her health.

The young lady is one of the most popular and capable teachers of the force, much beloved by both pupils and sister instructors and her departure will be deeply regretted by many.

As a small testimonial of their great esteem for the young lady the teachers of the Jefferson school tendered her last evening a farewell dinner at the Peacock Inn and the affair was peculiarly successful in all respects. No special program was carried out, but all met and had a delightful time socially, the only cloud on the spirits of all present being the fact that one so much esteemed was so soon to leave the city. The menu was much enjoyed and the social time that followed and with many regrets good-byes and best wishes were uttered and all departed for their respective homes.

Those present were Misses Etta Lyman, Mattie Aton, Mamie Shannon, Cornelia Gruenewald, Gusie Duffner, Lulu Clark, Rose Lonergan, Allie Goodrick, Andrews and Margaret English, together with Miss Mitchell, guest of honor.

A reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbs on the "Mound" Saturday evening in honor of their son, Chase Gibbs, who was married last Tuesday. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion. In the dining room red roses and smilax were used, in the parlor white carnations and ferns and in the library pink carnations and ferns. A two course supper was served and the sixty guests present enjoyed a most delightful evening with an impromptu program being carried out. Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs were doubly assured that the community gave them a cordial welcome and showered them with best wishes for a happy married life. They expect to go to housekeeping on a farm two miles west of Lynnville.

Mrs. Harry Harmon Taylor has issued invitations for an afternoon company to be given next Thursday at the Peacock Inn in honor of Miss Mary Masters.

Curtis Schofield entertained the members of the Elsinore club Saturday evening at his home on South Main street. The hours were passed in a delightful social manner and an elegant luncheon was enjoyed. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brower, special guests; Misses Lois Luttrell, Flossie Proctor, Hazel Strawn, Edith Henderson and Robertine Angelo, and Messrs. Irvin Potter, Chester Schofield, Roy and Albert Hopper, Homer Ranson, Chauncey Carter and Curtis Schofield.

One of the most delightful of the social functions enjoyed this year at the Illinois Woman's college was the annual reception given Saturday night by the Seniors in honor of the Juniors, the appointments in every way being such as could contribute only to the pleasure of the occasion. The guests upon arriving at the college were escorted to the Belles Lettres and Phi Nu society halls, where they were received by Miss Grace Cowgill, class officer of the Senior class; Miss Ruby Neville, class officer of the Juniors, and Misses Annette Rourke and Geraldine Fouché, presidents of the respective classes. The society halls were decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's day, large ferns being used with pretty effect in carrying out the color scheme. Throughout the evening Osborne's orchestra furnished music. Progressive conversation comprised a great part of the evening's entertainment. The programs for this were very unique and attractive and were hand painted. An elegant luncheon was served at 10:30 in the domestic science rooms by Vickery & Merriam. Here the same color scheme was carried out, favors being small Irish flags and Shamrocks.

About fifty young people enjoyed this reception and among those present from out of the city were Messrs. C. H. McKenna of Chicago, Lyle Barnes of Springfield and Harry Scherer of Decatur.

A company of young people enjoyed a St. Patrick's party Saturday evening at the home of Miss Eva Baxter in Woodson. Those in the party were Misses Eva Baxter, Moss Carter, Jacksonville, Ethel Soy and Edith Colton and Messrs. Thomas Ramsey of Woodson, Eldridge Johnson, Clyde Fanning and Ira Fanning. The evening was spent in a delightful social manner and in the popular song contest first prize was won by Miss Carter and the consolation prize by Clyde Fanning. Dainty refreshments were served.

A number of young people of Grace church have recently organized a choir, which has been giving valuable assistance in the Sunday school. Last night the members were entertained by Misses Esther Davis and Elsie Giten, at the home of Miss Davis on Webster avenue. About thirty-five were present and the house was decorated in the St. Patrick colors, the color idea being carried out in the dainty refreshments, which were served. The gathering was most pleasant in every way.

Our spring opening and display of ladies', misses' and children's ready to wear apparel takes place Wednesday, March 20th on our second floor. You are invited to see these stylish new garments whether you wish to buy or not.

As "Ed" Howe Sees Life

WHEN you feel all wrong, get right as soon as possible.

There is a "superior" person in every neighborhood, who is abused generously behind his back; but people walk mighty straight when in his presence.

I am as tired of seeing some of the stock pictures in the magazines and newspapers as I am of seeing the "Before Taking" picture.

Everyone likes authority a little; they call it "spice."

Many people are helpless because they are cowardly.

In very old literature, you find many stories of aged men dividing their money and leaping into the sea, or quietly disappearing in some other way. No such thing was ever done; the suggestion comes from literary young men, and represents what they believe old men should do.

Don't laugh too heartily at the four hundred bull dogs who were whipped at Philadelphia by one pug; you have taken many a disagreeable dose because it was offered you by a Superior Person.

Certain men will fight, and we are all more reasonable with them than we are with men we know will run.

People are disposed to forgive an old man any folly until he becomes defendant in a breach of promise suit.

Let a man show a number of men a new card game, and in ten minutes the students will be criticizing the professor.

DEFINES RIGHTS OF CITY OFFICIALS

Appellate Court in Decision in Ayers Case Gives Light on Contracts.

Reference was made yesterday to the fact that the appellate court had reversed the decision of the Morgan county circuit court in the case of John A. Ayers vs. The City of Jacksonville and had remanded the same for trial. In this case John A. Ayers, as a resident and taxpayer, in behalf of himself and other taxpayers filed a bill in chancery praying an injunction to restrain the city of Jacksonville from taking steps to carry out a contract made with The American Well Works company February 21, 1911, for furnishing electric driven deep well pumps, etc. The bill for an injunction was based largely upon the alleged fact that the city failed to advertise, in a proper way, for the proposed work, that there was no plan of the proposed improvement or specifications were prepared by the public engineer and that no estimate of the probable cost was made by the engineer. It was alleged that instead certain specifications were prepared by C. S. Cummins of Gardner, Ill., which were incomplete and were never approved by the public engineer.

Following the insertion of the advertisement for the work, which it was alleged was not in proper legal form, the city council at a meeting February 23, opened bids, one from The United Well Works company for $3,550 and one from The American Well Works for $7,832. These bids were referred to the public improvement committee with power to act and the committee on March 2, reported that the contract had been let February 24 to The American Well Works company.

It was alleged that the contract was invalid because of the omission to advertise for bids for pumps, motors, foundations, etc., as required by statute and ordinances of this city and that the specifications prepared were exceedingly favorable for the only bidder upon the work.

The opinion rendered by the Appellate court goes on to say that the bill alleged that the contract made by the city was invalid, because of the failure of the city to comply with the statutes and ordinances with reference to letting contracts for public work by the city and the requirement by the ordinances that the advertisement must state the nature and extent of the improvement, with the place where the specifications may be seen. "The ordinance also requires, before a contract is let, an estimate should be obtained of the probable cost. The advertisement for bids only asked for bids for boring wells. The bill alleges that the expense for boring the wells will not exceed $500, and yet a contract for boring wells, installing pumps and other equipments, an expense of $7,832 was made under this advertisement. It is alleged the contract price is much in excess of the reasonable value of the work and material con-

The above are all very good records. The lowest record was made by an immature grade cow. Yet she produced enough fat to qualify her for the advanced register of any of the associations had she been a pure bred. During the month of December twenty-nine official seven day Holstein-Friesian tests were reported from over the state. Of these the record made by the cow Rhaugundis Mercedes Molly Zell, No. 68747, deserves special attention. This cow produced in seven consecutive days 535.7 pounds of milk and 26.135 pounds of butter fat. This exceeds by five pounds any seven day record previously made in the state of Illinois.

Valuable Points of a Short Course in Agriculture

By F. MARION SIMPSON, Assistant in Agricultural Extension, University of Illinois

F. MARION SIMPSON was graduated from the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, with the class of 1909. For two years after graduation Mr. Simpson conducted a dairy farm in southern Illinois, where he came up against many of the real problems of farm life. He entered his work at the university in July, 1911.

EDUCATION, although treated as a science thousands of years ago, has taken up a new phase in the manner of dissemination of agricultural knowledge.

The first agricultural colleges of a century ago had for their foremost idea the best way of directly meeting the needs of the farmer. This idea prevailed until the colleges were managed by men of too scholarly attainments to suit the ordinary farmers of that time. As a result there were many colleges credited with failures.

But the present broad and practical means of handling farmers and future farmers has resulted in a decided far-therism being shown agricultural education and farming operations in general. Like all big businesses the present educational plans are the results of years and years of cumulative facts and experiences, and we now have a system of knowledge salesmanship that is as good as the selling systems of our best organized corporations.

One of the most important ways used in placing the facts of the experiment station before the farmer is the short course. The idea of these courses is so to condense agricultural truths and put them in such form as to aid the practical farmer and to stimulate in the younger set enthusiasm for farm life.

The small amount of time given to these short courses is one of the things which commend it to the farmer.

There are seasons of the year when farmers' institutes and meetings of various kinds hold sway, and it is at the darkest period of these seasons that we find the successful short course in operation. By holding them the latter part of January or the first part of February, the dividing time between the winter hibernating and the spring awakening, the busy farmer or the farmer boy is able to attend and is more susceptible to teaching, for he is beginning to think along the lines of the coming season's work.

At the agricultural college of the University of Illinois there has been a two weeks' short course held for the last fourteen years. The motives which actuated the organizing and which still dominate this course are admirable ones. It is primarily a farmers' organization, having been instituted by the Corn Growers' association of the state in 1898, and the next year, in combination with the Stockmen's association, an interesting course was conducted.

The last few years' average enrollment at Urbana has been very close to 1,000, this number being the result of the course's own advertising. For a number of years now the extension department has not tried to push the course at all, but simply has let its own momentum carry it. There are a great many farmers and young people in the state who would like the chance of attending such a course, but they are kept from it by not receiving sufficient encouragement to move them to take the step. Unfortunately this state of affairs has been forced upon the college because of the lack of room and the many other duties that are heaped upon the teaching force.

As a remedy for this congested condition the farmers' institute promoters and the college officials have put their heads together and as a result a new short course plan has been adopted. The new plan embraces the conducting of one week meetings at different strategic points throughout the state, only those places being selected that are strong agricultural communities and are willing to push such an affair. The new system is being tried out this year and so far is proving highly successful.

The farmer who most needs the agricultural college and the stimulus that comes from the mixing and exchanging of ideas with successful men of his own occupation is the one who is hardest to reach and the one who receives the fewest of the benefits of the different educational plans. Sometimes it is the fact that his own shortcomings make it seem that if he should lose a day of work from the farm he would be sure to be driven to the poorhouse, a total failure. Again it is his bashfulness and timidity that cause him to restrain easily his yearnings for the society and companionship of strangers.

Fortunately for the farmer and agricultural education, the local short courses are squarely meeting both of these problems and coming out the victor.

TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Havenel Shows Transfer of Disease From Animals to Man, and Man to Animals.

Dr. Mazzyk P. Havenel of the University of Wisconsin who will lecture in Jacksonville at the High school on Thursday, March 21st, has done much to enlighten the public regarding the transfer of tuberculosis from man to animals and from animals (especially through cow's milk) to man. We quote a few following from some of Dr. Havenel's recent writings.

In a series of experiments which I carried out at the laboratory of the state livestock sanitary board at Pennsylvania swine fed with a tubercle bacilli from man and from cattle developed generalized tuberculosis.

It has been repeatedly proved that the tubercle bacillus passes into the milk of tuberculous cows even when there is no disease of the udder (Smith, Reinisch and Kemper, Havenel and others), and further that tuberculosis is communicable from animals to man. The chief source of infection through food, strictly speaking, must then be considered the milk and other products of tuberculous cattle.

In 1901 I isolated from the mesenteric (intestine) glands of a child who died of tuberculous meningitis following primary intestinal infection, a culture (BB) which, after the first generation, showed all the characteristics of the bovine (cow) bacillus, killing cattle rapidly. A second culture (U) also from a case of meningitis, though of doubtful origin, was of the human type in growth and morphology, but showed high virulence for dogs and calves. A third culture (KK) reported by Dr. Pife and myself from a case of primary intestinal tuberculosis was bovine in all respects, including virulence for calves.

The German commission examined 60 cultures from man and found 6 (10 per cent) to be bovine. These were, with one exception, from children with mesenteric or intestinal lesions. The English commission studied 60 cultures isolated from man, of which 14 (23 per cent) proved to be of the bovine type; 28 of the cases from which these cultures were obtained had histories pointing to intestinal infection, and of these 13 (46.4 per cent) gave cultures of the bovine type.

POINTS FOR POULTRY RAISERS.

A large, roomy coop for the mother hen and her family is the thing. Infertile eggs taken from the incubator need not be a loss. They may be boiled and used as chick food. Sprinkling lime and sulphur in the nest about to be given to a setting hen will make it hard sledding for the lice and mites afterward.

The mother hen in the coop ought not to be deprived of taking her dust bath. For this reason we like a floorless coop best whenever it can be kept on dry ground.

Fifty cents for a good rooster used to look like a pretty stiff price. But that was during the times when poultry raising meant simply "keeping chickens." Now we pay $10 for a rooster without batting an eye.

It will not take long for one hen to teach the rest of the flock egg eating. It is best to remove the egg eater as soon as discovered until she is broken of the habit if this can be done.

The more lice and mites the fewer chicks, and vice versa.

Onions are a great tonic for both young and old fowls. Chopp them up and mix in the feed occasionally.

A St. Louis woman puts a Teddy bear in the nest of a broody hen, which seems to scare the hen out of all desire to set any longer.

The hen house should be fumigated twice a year with sulphur. Have some live coals in a pan and on them pour a pound of sulphur, after having driven all the fowls out of the house. See that all the doors and windows are closed. This will kill disease germs, and anything else and purify the house thoroughly.

Always give dry food to small chicks. The first three days we give half boiled egg and stale bread crumbs, after that give baked "chicken cake." It is made by taking equal parts of corn meal and bran, mixed to a soft batter with sour milk, a handful of salt, and a spoonful of sulphur. Bake slowly an hour or more.

At the same time that I set the incubator I set four hens on three eggs each, and when the machine begins to hatch I put several half-hatched eggs and put them under each hen. Then when the hatch is over I give each hen about twenty chicks and put them all in the nursery room together. I find this a safe way to raise the chicks.

IMPORTANT LETTER TO ALL WHO SUFFER.

"I suffered from indigestion for a long time. Last May I almost died. The doctor told me it was acute indigestion and I could not be cured. Since that time I have suffered very much, as some days everything I ate, even light food, as soft boiled eggs, would distress me. I lost fifteen pounds. Sometimes I felt that I could not live another day. A month ago I got a box of MI-ONA tablets. Before I had used them a week I was better. I have used two boxes and I feel as well as I ever did. Eunice A. Peters, Jackson, Ga.

Use MI-ONA stomach tablets for quick relief from sour stomach heaviness, heartburn, belching of gas and distress after eating. They are guaranteed. Large box 50 cents at Coover & Shrove and druggists everywhere.

The members of the Ladies' Bible class of the First Baptist church are very desirous to have a large attendance at the devotional exercises at the usual Sunday school hour this morning.

I have ready an empty paper shoe box and in this I put a woolen cloth. As soon as I see a little chick dropping around by itself, looking as though it wished it were dead, I pick it up, and, after examining for lice, give it a few drops of lukewarm milk. Then I place the chick in the box and cover it up lightly with the cloth, and put the box in the sun.

JACKSONVILLE ZOUAVES AND MORGAN CADETS.

A Story of Their Origin and Achievements.

The Jacksonville Zouaves, an independent military organization, came into existence in 1869 and Captain William Harrison was its chief officer. The company was composed of young men from various walks of life, a large number of them being clerks in stores and business offices in the city, though several members were from the surrounding country. The men were resplendent in the regulation Zouave uniform of braided blue jackets, scarlet Turkish trousers and brown cloth leggings. Their headgear consisted of a Turkish fez and a fatigue cap for a change. They were provided with knapsacks which were approximately 18x20x6 inches in size and were covered with black enameled leather, having straps on top for attaching a blanket when so desired. The box was used for carrying comb and brush and such change of clothing as was desired. The company was armed with muzzle-loading Enfield rifles, and although they were pretty heavy for use in a Zouave drill, which is mostly in quick time, the officers were so confident of the excellence of the drill put up by the company that they were heard to remark on frequent occasions they would not hesitate to meet on the drill ground any similar organization in the United States. The company was an attraction when drilling, or at the head of any civic procession, in which they were frequently called on to take a part.

Robert L. Wyatt.

There were frequent balls given in Strawn's hall and the attendance was usually very satisfactory, the surplus from the receipts being sufficient to defray the current expenses of the organization. The drill room occupied by the company was the abandoned East Charge church which stood on the ground on East State street opposite the Pacific hotel and now covered by a drug store and tailor establishment. The organization after a few years gave up its existence from various reasons, some of its most active members removed from the city, others were engaged in occupations which prevented attendance at the drills, and others found it inconvenient to go on parade when called on and quite a few found it interfered with their avocations to go out of the city when an invitation came to visit other places. From the time of the disbanding of the Zouaves until the summer of 1876 no steps were taken looking to the formation of a military company. Captain William Harrison was at that time chief of the city fire department which had its headquarters on East Court street. One evening in July of the year mentioned Frank C. Taylor, known to many as "Cap," was in conversation with the fire chief and suggested that steps be taken to recruit a military company. To the proposition assent was readily given and then there papers were prepared for signatures for membership in the contemplated organization. Getting the signatures of Captain Harrison and signing himself "Cap," Taylor took the papers and circulated them for signatures, and the next evening, Wednesday, July 26, the first meeting was called to order with Captain Harrison in the chair and "Cap" Taylor, secretary. There were present fifteen and the organization was a fact. Committees on recruiting and headquarters were appointed, and an adjournment taken to meet at the call of the president. In a short time there was an enrollment of twenty members.

Arrangements were made with the members of the Turnverein for the use of their hall at the intersection of North Main and East North streets and headquarters of the company was consequently fixed at that place. After using that building for a few months it was learned that the large dining room in the passenger station of the Wabash road was vacant, and steps were taken resulting in the securing of that room which was more commodious for the purpose of company drill than the former rooms, which were not so large or well fitted for the purpose. This room was used for some months when a transfer was made from the depot building to the abandoned Presbyterian church which had been moved from its old location on West State street to the rear of the lot, and in the rear of Odeon hall, or as it is now known, Unity building. This room was shortly afterwards abandoned and headquarters was moved to Odeon hall, and from that location to Masonic temple, as the Masonic fraternity then occupied rooms in the Broadwell building on South Main street. From this location one other move was made when arrangements were made whereby Strawn's hall was secured for a permanent armory and a portion of the rent and expenses of the company was furnished by the state.

In the latter part of the year 1877 the Morgan Cadets, which name had been adopted as the name of the company, was sworn in to the service of the state of Illinois as Company I, and attached to the fifth regiment and were in consequence subject to the call of the governor for service at any place in the state.

In the summer of 1877 the great strike of the railroad men occurred and resulted in the tying up of trains and the consequent stoppage of traffic and passenger travel on all trains into or out of East St. Louis and also in and out of St. Louis across the river. Company I was ordered to report in Springfield and on a specified train, and upon their arrival at the state capital were, with other state troops, entrained for East St. Louis for duty. They were conveyed to the scene of trouble on the lay train going south on the C. & A. railroad until after the ending of the strike. For their services in the line of duty the officers and men of Co. I were highly commended by the commandant of the regiment, Col. James H. Barclay, a gentleman who had the efficiency and welfare of his command at heart and who won the esteem of his men at all times.

The company attended the annual meetings at the state military encampments and on all occasions received the commendation of the officers of the organization for their excellence in drill and gentlemanly deportment. When the term of service for which the company was sworn in was at an end the members were honorably mustered out and quite a number re-enlisted. New officers were elected and the legislature of the state having made provision for providing its military with uniforms and modern arms, the company entered on an era of improved conditions. Today the company I of the 5th is known as Company B and is attached to the 8th regiment. It was not the intention of the writer, who was "one of them," to go into such length but, it was difficult to find a stopping place. The roster of the original organization of the Morgan Cadets or Co. I, follows:

Captain—William Harrison.
First Lieutenant—Benjamin Wood.

A BIT OF NAVAL HISTORY.

Origin of the Corps of Professors of Mathematics.

Before the Naval academy was established midshipmen received their education entirely on board ship. Their technical education was obtained in the school of experience, helped out occasionally by the voluntary efforts of the older line officers. Their general education was at first neglected, but later instructors were appointed for service on ships that carried midshipmen. These were appointed by the secretary of the navy for stated periods, much as civilian instructors at the Naval academy are appointed at the present time. In 1842 a general order was issued providing that they should live and mess with lieutenants. They were commissioned in 1848, but specific rank was not given them until the general reorganization of all staff corps during the civil war.

The late Professor H. H. Lockwood, U. S. N., in some very interesting reminiscences read before the Naval Academy Graduates' association in 1893 relates how the corps of professors of mathematics came to be formed. In the early days of the Naval academy he was one of its instructors. He had had service in the army, and in the development of the course of instruction he determined, after consultation with the superintendent, to give the midshipmen a little infantry drill. This did not suit the proud spirits of the young gentlemen of that day, and to show their disapproval of this and other efforts of the professor they hung him in effigy. An investigation and a court martial followed on the charge of insulting a superior officer.

The defense put up the plea that the instructor was not a superior officer. Such a condition is hard to understand at this time, when the status of officers, instructors and midshipmen at the Naval academy is well defined, but at that time midshipmen were officers, while instructors had no official standing. The plea was technically correct, and to punish the guilty midshipmen it was found necessary to substitute charges in which the anomalous position of the professor in the naval service could not be made to enter. Upon these the guilty midshipmen were condemned and punished.

This incident led to an amendment in the naval appropriation bill of 1848 giving authority for the commissioning of twelve professors of mathematics. Commander U. T. Holmes in Engineering Magazine.

A Simple Get-rich-quick Scheme.

Take 1,000,000 cats and get rich quick. This is the advice of the Liberte of Paris to its readers. The prescription is quite simple. A million cats will supply you with 12,000,000 kittens a year. The skins are worth a little over 28 cents each, so there you have a daily gross revenue of about $10,000. To skin the cats you will have to employ 100 men, who will charge you $2 per fifty cats. Your net revenue will thus be reduced to about $9,000 a day. It should cost you nothing to feed your cats. Start a ratery. Rats breed four times as fast as cats, so the cats can have a daily diet of four rats apiece, which is ample. To feed the rats is perfectly simple. Give them the skin and cats. One cat will be ample for four rats. The scheme works out simply and automatically. The cats eat the rats, the rats eat the cats, and you have the skins.

The Chapel of Bones.

One of the most interesting sights of Malta and at the same time rather a gruesome one is the Chapel of Bones. Guides who show visitors round the island never fail to point this out. The whole of the sides, arches and about the altar are the skulls and crossbones of the long departed monks. In niches round the chapel stand skeletons of monks in their habits. On either side of the altar stands a skeleton representing Father Time with a scythe. Standing at the rear of the chapel one cannot but admire and wonder at the regular manner in which the skulls and bones are placed.

How Parchment Got Its Name.

The Greeks of Pergamus are said to have first prepared parchment from the skins of the goat or sheep. They were curried, deprived of all fat, thinned uniformly by the knife, dyed or whitened and finally rubbed down with pumice stone to a smooth and even surface. Called parchment from the city of its origin, the new material became parchment in archaic French and parchment in the English tongue.—National Magazine.

Squeal and Bark.

"Nothing lost here but the squeal," declared the pork butcher. "Are you as economical in conducting your business?"

"Just about," answered the visitor. "I'm in the lumber business. We waste nothing but the bark."—Louisville Courier Journal.

It Fell.

"What's that racket down there?" shouted the old gentleman from the head of the stairs.

"I think," promptly replied his daughter, "that it was Bob dropping his voice when he proposed to me."—Detroit Free Press.

John Jeffers of Winchester was in the city Saturday on business.

The Crown of Womanhood

"Uncared for hair cannot be beautiful. There is no part of the human makeup so revengeful as the hair. It cries out: Look at me, care for me, or I will disgrace you! Treat me with consideration and I will be a glory to you."

With the above words Lillian Russell an unquestioned authority on feminine attractiveness, places no uncertain value on nice hair as a beauty asset. Unkempt, uncared for hair not only cannot be attractive but is actually a disgrace.

But why have illkept, untidy hair? By devoting a few moments regularly to brushing and intelligent application of NEWBRO'S HERPICIIDE, the hair may be made to yield wonderful returns in increased personal charm.

Dandruff, which is due to a germ or microbe, is the direct cause of more hair trouble than anything else. The hair becomes thin, harsh, uneven and falls out in quantities. It looks dead and lifeless; there is no luster. The scalp itches.

HERPICIIDE will destroy this dandruff germ that is causing all the trouble, cleans the scalp, solves the hair, snap and luxuriance. The hair stops coming out, the itch ceases almost at once and withal there is a most gratifying sense of cleanliness.

To the woman who wishes to make the most of nature's gifts by having fluffy beautiful hair, NEWBRO'S HERPICIIDE is a toilet necessity. It is exquisitely perfumed and is a delightful hair dressing.

The large size bottle sold and guaranteed everywhere. Applications at the better Barber Shops and Hair Dressing parlors. Send for Sample bottle.

Uncle Sam Buys a Buick Motor

A model 28 Buick motor car was delivered to Colonel Spencer Crosby of the Department of War at Washington, to be used by the inspector of buildings and grounds on his daily trips.

The government invited all the leading manufacturers of cars priced from $900 to $2,000 to submit a car in competition to a committee of expert mechanical men. These cars were driven to the designated place and the drivers dismissed.

The examination was then made with no representative of any of the cars present. Motor for motor, shaft for shaft, bolt for bolt, the cars were compared, tested and appraised by the government experts. One by one the cars were eliminated until but one remained. It was the Buick.

Of the seventeen or eighteen cars submitted the Buick alone stood the rigid test of quality and construction, upon which the examination was based. This car was at once turned over to the government for immediate service.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

About a year ago through the generosity of the late Mr. E. J. Parker of Quincy and the valuable assistance of Professor W. O. Gould, a plan was prepared for the future improvement of the campus. A campus improvement committee, consisting of representatives of the faculty, trustees and friends of the college, has just been appointed to commence the execution of this plan. The committee consists of the following persons: Mrs. T. J. Pinner, chairman; Dr. Grace Dewey, Dr. C. E. Black and Professors J. G. Ames and Isaac S. Smith. The plans prepared by a landscape gardener of Chicago call for extensive planting of shrubs about the campus. When the plan is completed, the Illinois college campus will undoubtedly be the most beautiful spot in our city. It is not expected to execute the whole plan at once, but a beginning will be made this spring. The college trustees have made an appropriation for the use of the committee. It is suggested that any friends who wish to donate shrubs for the development of this plan should communicate with the chairman of the committee, Mrs. T. J. Pinner.

Through the efforts of Professor J. G. Ames a complete set of the College Rambler from 1878-1910 has now been secured and bound. This set of volumes will be especially valuable for any future historian of the college. The binding of the papers has been paid for by contributions from the editors-in-chief of the respective volumes. Professor Ames, on behalf of the college, wishes to renew his thanks to all friends and alumni who have made it possible to get together this complete file of the Rambler.

President Rammelkamp has been invited to deliver an address on Thursday evening in connection with the dedicatory exercises for the new Presbyterian church at Virden.

A recent number of the Peoria Democrat contained an article on Principal C. E. Robinson of Whipple academy. The article was illustrated by a portrait cut of Mr. Robinson.

President Rammelkamp will attend the meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Chicago on Friday and Saturday.

Professor George R. Throop, who acted as one of the judges at the high school debate, was entertained at the home of Professor and Mrs. Harris during his sojourn in the city.

NO CAUSE FOR DOUBT.

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts, and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Reckall Orderlies are, as a rule, just like candy, are particularly pleasant and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night, do not cause dizziness, nausea, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regular tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Reckall Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents and 60 tablets 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Reckall Orderlies in Jacksonville only at our store—The Rexall Store, Lee P. Alcott, east side square.

BATTLE ROYAL IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Bismarck, N. D., March 16.—North Dakota promises to monopolize the center of the political stage next Tuesday, when state wide primary will be held to give the voters of both the leading parties an opportunity to express their preference for candidates for the presidential nomination. The primary will be the first of its kind ever held in any of the states and will mark an important innovation in American politics.

The idea of presidential preference primaries is an outgrowth of the direct election plan which originated in Oregon several years ago. The primary in this state next week will afford the first demonstration of how the idea works out in practice. The theory on which the scheme is based is generally conceded to be sound by the politicians of all parties. It is the theory that delegates who place in nomination men for the highest offices in the land should represent the people directly, and not merely the politicians. The direct elections will do away with the conventions, which heretofore have been held for the selection of delegates to the national conventions, and, it is believed, will insure the carrying out of the popular will with no miscarriages due to political manipulation.

In addition to North Dakota, the states that will try out the primary plan this year in the selection of the whole or a part of their delegates to the national conventions include New York, Wisconsin, Illinois, Nebraska, Michigan, California, Oregon, Ohio, New Jersey and South Dakota. If the results of the plan work out as its supporters anticipate, and there are found to be no counterbalancing bad effects from the new law, it is safe to say that by 1916 the direct primary system will be adopted by practically all of the states.

Mrs. John Hull and son, Kenneth, have returned to their home in Roadhouse after a visit with Mrs. Hull's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hail on Hardin avenue.

FOR A LITTLE MAID.

A Smart Brown
Velveteen Model.

MODERN VELVETEEN FROCK.

Velvet must be used very simply in children's frocks, and this model of brown velveteen, with its straight skirt and short bodice, with cream lace collar and cuffs, is in very good style. A brown cord finishes the waistline.

Googoo Eyes Make Turks Happy.

"The maidens of Turkey have learned to make American googoo eyes. They have learned to flirt like an American belle or a Paris girl."

So said Sidkey Bey, discussing the new regime in Turkey today. He was formerly second secretary to the Turkish embassy at Washington, afterward acting consul general in New York. Sidkey Bey is here with his wife, handsome and talented. He went on: "In the old days a woman in Turkey couldn't flirt because her glances were wasted on the wrong side of her veil. Now she can use her eyes to advantage, and she knows it. The Turk knows it, too, and is glad she does not wear the veil."

"In these days the American courtship is carried on in Turkey. The young man calls at the girl's house and even goes so far as to take her out for a walk just like the American or Englishman. Then he pops the question, and if she accepts they are eventually married if some other fellow does not come along whom the girl might like better."

To the Bachelor Girl.

The bachelor girl, especially at the outset of her career, is usually bright, jolly, in love with life and the good times she is having. Every one likes her because her outlook on life is so cheery. She is welcomed everywhere. Her social calendar is usually filled.

But if she wants to continue popular, if she wants her life to remain interesting, she should as the years slip by keep strict watch and ward upon herself.

For this gay, careless life of the bachelor girl is apt to make her self centered, self absorbed. She grows selfish. She is apt to be concerned only with herself and her own affairs.

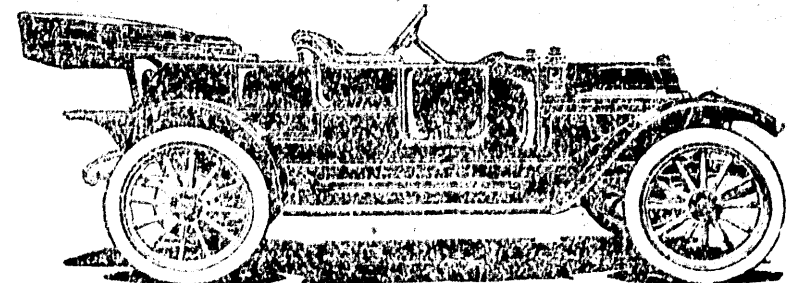

And gradually, little by little, lovable-ness slips out of her character, and before she knows it life will not be full of bloom and fragrance. There will be barren spots. It will begin to take on the hue of the desert. And unless she heeds these signs of the times she will come to a rather desolate old age.

Pots of Glass.

A process has recently been invented in France to produce glass flowerpots at very low cost. The pots are like ordinary flowerpots both in size and shape. They are said to be more substantial and have proved to resist the pressure of ice or frozen earth better. Being handsome in appearance, they are fine for potted plants, doing away with the paper coverings that soon get soiled. When sunk into the earth they remain clean, as neither dirt nor moss adheres. The inside walls being smooth, plants can easily be slipped out, and they are therefore excellent for potting plants with many roots. The thickness of the glass, with the consequent lack of porosity, is also said to be an advantage, for the air remains sweet longer in a glass pot than in an ordinary pot, and there is less danger of drying out. While the initial cost of glass pots is somewhat higher, they are really cheaper in the end because more durable.

"Yes," said the literary man with a sigh, "style is a fine thing for a writer to have, but when his wife's got it, too, it takes all the profit away."—Harper's Weekly.

Grain Letter.

Chicago, Ill., March 16.—Wheat—Wheat has been well supported by the leading bull interests. Scattered liquidation was a depressing influence, but the market was helped by a steady demand from the local shorts. New developments were of the routine sort and not important. Recent purchasers for millers appear now to have been against sales of wheat for May delivery. The heavy shipment of wheat from Argentine points, the large world's shipments, which will soon lead to important increases on passage. Winnipeg continues to report some export demand for off grades. Wheat has had big break and will probably rally if local support continues. Corn—Corn acted heavy under scattered liquidation. Lower cash markets, both local and at outside points had a depressing effect. Local receipts have fallen off very decidedly and country offerings are almost nil. Shipping demand is not good, but outside receipts increase local stocks will again run down. A considerable short interest has been created through recent aggressive local selling. A good deal depends upon how well the big outsiders' holdings is protected. Stop-loss selling to day was not large as had been expected. Oats—Oats suffered in sympathy with other grains. Cash purchases are hardly sufficient for local needs. While weather conditions are slightly more favorable, we are still in the grip of winter at a time when farm work and even seedling should be well under way. The late season will surely be an important factor. The new oats are likely to get a poor start, and the acreage will probably be small, as work must be done for corn planting almost as soon as the oats go in. The high price of hay and other coarse feed will lead to an unusual consumption of oats. We firmly believe that the old crop will be practically exhausted before new oats are available. The present break offers an excellent opportunity for investments in July and September oats.

1183 Beautifully Trimmed Pattern Hats

NO TWO ALIKE

These Hats were the pride of the above concerns. They spared no expense to make them beautiful, because they used them in their French show rooms. We buy very heavily from these firms, so they favored us with their princely assortment of samples. Each hat is designed by artists. They are lined with the very best and richest messalines and bear their own silk label trade marks. We could write one thousand pages if we wanted to describe them. But no. There are too many, one more beautiful than the other. This Hat sale should make history for this store, as never before or never hereafter can such a thing happen. LISTEN! These hats are worth $10 to $15 each! Yes, madam, worth every cent of it, and some even more.
